

Madam Secretary,

How can we continually allow a corporation with no competition to completely dictate it's terms to the consumer? Why are they not treated as the Monopoly that they are? I am from Buffalo New York and am tired of having no option to seeing the Buffalo bills, except to spend hundreds of dollars, inclusive of tickets, parking, food and beverages.

What we have here is unmitigated GREED.

Let's remove completely the NFL black-out rule, or a least make it more fair to the consumer.

Maybe it's time to remove their exclusivity and allow for open competition!
